ICELAND CRASH COURSE:

Size of country: Similar as Cuba, Portugal, South Korea or the US state of Kentucky
Population: 390.000 people / Capital city: Reykjavik (250.000 people in the Capital area)
International airport code: KEF
How long do I need to see Iceland: A circle tour around Iceland is approximately 1.800 km (1.120 miles) of driving and requires a minimum of 8 days. 10-14 days allows for more time, experiencing more remote areas such as the Westfjords. Shorter stay is also popular either staying in Reykjavik with day tours from/to the capital city or staying in the South & West regions.
Reasons to visit: Nature, scenery, landscape and outdoor activities. Northern lights in winter (September-April) and up to 24 hours of daylight and midnight sun in summer.
High season and best time to visit: Summer, May-August, when there is up to 24 hours of daylight, midnight sun, most beautiful colours in nature, active wildlife and best for outdoor activities. Winter, September-April, for northern lights viewing and the wonderful frozen nature.
Northern Lights: Visible in the winter, September-April, shortest daylight of 4-6 hours is in December and January with 0 degrees Celsius average temperature.
Temperatures: Summer ranges from 10-15° Celsius and winter average 0° Celsius.
How to dress: Dress in layers as the weather changes rapidly in Iceland during all seasons.
Food: Fish, seafood, lamb, local vegetarian & vegan options
Hotel standard: Mostly 3–4-star hotels and guesthouses. 5-star only in Reykjavík and at the Blue Lagoon.
Visa: Schengen / Visa letter: Is available and issued, once a deposit of 20% of the tour package is paid.
Tipping: Is not customary in Iceland but well received for exceptional service.

PHOTOS: High-res photo folders can be sent with a link if you publish of our fixed departure tours. Please advise which of our tours will be published. For further information contact: info@gjtravel.is

VIDEOS: For your marketing we have a great selection of videos on YouTube for support See all GJ Videos

FACTS ABOUT NORTHERN LIGHTS: Northern Lights are visible September – April and cannot be seen May-August, as that is the season with up to 24 hours of daylight and the midnight sun.

WINTER & NORTHER LIGHTS SIC TOURS: GJ Travel offers various Iceland winter & northern lights tours on SIC basis September – April. If you require rates and info about our fixed departure tours in winter that include Northern Lights activities, contact info@gjtravel.is
